

STUCK IN THE IN-BETWEEN

Not yet the past

Not yet the future

Not really the present

A purgatory of introspection

What's left in the past?

What's moved towards the future?

If it's still in the now,

Is it yet the past?

If it's still in the now,

Will it be in the future?

When did the present stop being the past?

And when will it become the future?
